Please be informed that it is now possible for you to add conferences, courses and other interesting events to the Network: TUFH website from behind your own computer.

Information added to the Internet database will also be included in the International Diary of our journal Education for Health, and in the Network: TUFH Newsletter. To add information to our Internet site you need to get access to the so-called content management system.

Therefore you have to apply for a password http://www.the-networktufh.org/add_to_site/index.asp

Once you have received a password instructions will follow automatically.
